

CONVERSATION

A Message from Father James

As Mary Jane and I begin our time with you, I have asked that opportunities be given for us to have conversation with you in small group settings. In those times I want to put names with faces, but even more importantly I want to hear from you about the Cathedral and its ministries, your hopes and dreams, your concerns and fears. I will be listening intentionally for those issues that you know about and I need to learn about. Most of all, my hope is that we participate together as a community centered in the Spirit of Jesus Christ.

One of the issues that always comes up has to do with the nature of interim work. First, the work of the priest who agrees to come for a limited time is virtually the same as it is for one who agrees to come for a lifetime. One must still meet you, the people of God, assess the needs of the congregation, address them, and leave. Whether that is done in the span of 18 months or 18 years, the steps are similar. Second, my work during interim times is not intended to be a holding action. It is meant to move the congregation forward in its ministry, its stewardship, its fellowship, and its administration. While the aforementioned areas are not inclusive, they are suggestive of my meaning. Third, there is no reason to not keep right on growing in terms of our engagement spiritually and behaviorally. During this next 18 months your life will not go on hold, and that goes for the city as well. The very nature of interim ministry is that you will continue to reach out, continue to grow, and that you will have capable, experienced leadership as you do. I trust that I will be able to measure up to that expectation in many areas.

It has been suggested by the Gallup organization that congregational engagement and spiritual commitment are the two mainstays of congregational spiritual health, and that there are four measures of congregational effectiveness in leading to those mainstays:

- Serving and helping others;
- inviting others to participate;
- financial support; and
- life satisfaction.

The engagement factor might be summed up in a few questions. I am going to suggest four questions for your reflection. As a help to me to understand the nature of the Cathedral's present effectiveness, I invite you to write to me or to attend one of the conversation groups and give your responses to these questions. They will be for me a listening post, a beginning, if you will, to understand the nature of my work while in this wonderful cathedral parish.

- † Are you reaching out to others in service?
- † Have you recently invited someone to join with you in coming to the Cathedral?
- † Is your support of the Cathedral a matter of generosity and spiritual growth?
- † Are you challenged and affirmed on some regular basis by someone at the Cathedral?

These questions should be sufficient to begin our conversation, though any topic will be fair game as grist for our dialogue. Mary Jane and I look forward to our time with you, and pray with you God's blessings on the lives and ministries of all who call Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral home.

Faithfully,

Fr. James

The Two Cathedrals of Kansas City

by Don Lenz

The photograph above shows Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral through the new rose window opening of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, and demonstrates the physical closeness of the two cathedrals in downtown Kansas City. The relationship involves a lot more than proximity, as the cathedrals entered into a Covenant in 1974 and have a strong history of working together over the years.

More than 12,000 people contributed over $7 million for the current renovation project at Immaculate Conception. The building has been completely redone inside and out, and tours during construction attest to the classical beauty that has been returned to the cathedral of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Kansas City-St. Joseph. The new rose window has not been installed, making the November 2002 view in the photo a piece of history.

Current plans target Saturday, February 22, 2003 for the Mass of Dedication of the renovated Cathedral. More detail on the rebuilding can be found at:

www.kcgolddome.org/renovation.htm

Memorial Gifts of Altar Linen Appreciated

From time to time it becomes necessary to refurbish the supply of linens used at the altar. The Altar Guild would like members to know that it is possible to give linens as a memorial to loved ones. It is also possible to make a contribution to be used toward the linen fund. If you are interested in making such an offering, please call Betty Phillips at (913) 648-5392, or mark the memo section on your donation check "Altar Guild Linens."

Centering Prayer Small Group

A small group is forming at the Cathedral that will focus on Centering Prayer. Anyone interested in being part of this instructional and sharing group is welcome. The group will gather in the upstairs conference room at 6:15 p.m. on Sundays. The facilitator is Ruth Evans.

Centering Prayer is a method designed to facilitate the development of contemplative prayer by preparing us to cooperate with this gift. It is an attempt to present the teaching of earlier time in an updated form and to put a certain order and regularity into it. It is not meant to replace other kinds of prayer; it simply puts other kinds of prayer into a new and fuller perspective.

Please call Deacon Linda at (816) 474-8260 with any questions.

I want to tell God a secret.*

Absalom Jones Diocesan Service on February 8, 2003

By Don Lenz

On Saturday, February 8, 2003, the Diocese of Western Missouri will celebrate the Feast Day of Absalom Jones. Bishop Barry Howe will be the celebrant at the Eucharist service, to be held at 11:00 a.m. at Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral.

Absalom Jones was the first African American priest in the Episcopal Church, ordained in Philadelphia on September 21, 1802. He was born a slave in 1746 in Delaware and was sold to a store owner in Philadelphia. He taught himself to read from the New Testament, attended a night school for blacks operated by the Quakers, and eventually bought his own freedom and that of his wife.

Jones became an active member of St. George's Methodist Episcopal Church, where he served as lay minister for its black membership. As Lesser Feasts and Fasts (from which this article is drawn) puts it: "The active evangelism of Jones and that of his friend Richard Allen greatly increased membership at St. George's." This alarmed the vestry, which decided to segregate blacks to an upstairs gallery. Jones and Allen were outraged when this was announced at the next service, and led the black parishioners out the door.

Absalom Jones and Richard Allen organized the free African Society in 1787, and it began to build a church in 1792. In October 1794, St. Thomas African Episcopal Church was admitted to the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania. The walk out from St. George's had a second powerful result: Richard Allen and others in the Free African Society with a preference for Methodism founded the African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church, and Allen was named the first bishop of the AME church in 1816. Absalom Jones became the Rector of St. Thomas and was known as the Black Bishop of the Episcopal Church. He continued to preach on behalf of the oppressed and distressed until his death in 1818.

The feast day for Absalom Jones is February 13th, celebrated this year on February 8th. The service is organized by St. Augustine of Hippo Episcopal Church (Fr. Thomas Shepherd, Rector), located on Benton Boulevard. Members of St. Augustine have assembled an excellent series of displays on African American history that can be seen at the reception following the February 8th service, and will be at the Cathedral the prior week.

Plan to join us on February 8th!

Thanks to the Building and Grounds Committee, we have a new security door. The Nursery staff and I greatly appreciated the Committee's concern for our safety and that of the children at Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral.

Winter seems to have arrived! Here's a simple idea to spread some cheer. When helping your children make Valentine's Day cards, make an extra one and share it with a neighbor.

This Year's Lenten Academy Courses

"Living the Beatitudes"

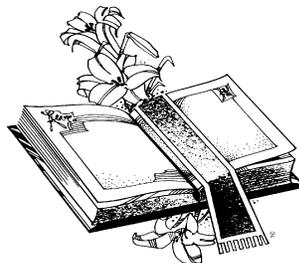

The Beatitudes are the core of our values as Christians. We continually need to reflect and appropriate these invitations into our contemporary lives. This series will center on four Beatitudes that are needed in our 2003 society today.

"Abraham³"

Abraham is the forefather of the world's three great religions: Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Each views him in a special way. We will discover and discuss Abraham's influence on these faiths.

"Opening Doors to God"

A simple walk in the park can be a spiritual journey, as can Bible study, reading and other activities. This series will invite you to select your own preferred methods of spiritual growth, and encourages you to open doors to God.

"Faith and Popular Media"

The ideas and actions of faithful people have suffused themselves through our popular media. Is this an example of crass commercialism by corporate magnates who will sell anything that sells ad space, or is faith a part of the human condition that finds expression through even trendy media? This series is sure to challenge your view of faith and popular media.

"A Lenten Academy Potpourri"

This series will feature a different class each week. From an educative tour of the newly renovated Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception to a study of the arts, you are sure to enjoy this potpourri of topics!

"Healing, Humor and Hope" Theme of Women's Retreat Evokes Promise

The Sisters in Spirit invite women of GHTC to attend one of two women's retreats this year. Registration is open for both. Both will take place at the Franciscan Prayer Center on Noland Road in Independence, Missouri. The dates are February 21-23, 2003 and May 16-18, 2003. The sessions begin at 5:00 p.m. on Friday and conclude with brunch on Sunday. The cost for this year is $85.00; some scholarship funds may also be available.

The programs of both retreats will be the same, accommodating more women.

The theme is "Healing, Humor and Hope." The planning committee consists of Lenette Johnson, Kristy Moore, Leona Schaefer, Marnell Sparks, Whitney Kretsinger, Bunny Reefer, Joyce Morrow and Linda Yeager.

February Adult Forums February 2nd:

"Anticipatory Grief"

The Rev. Marshall Scott, Chaplain at St. Luke's Hospital, will share what he has learned through the years while providing bedside support to grieving persons. He will provide insight on what a grieving person can expect and how we can provide meaningful support.

February 9th:

"Timothy and Titus:

Companions to Saint Paul"

Timothy and Titus were close comrades of Paul. The two letters to Timothy and the one to Titus in the New Testament reflect the situation of the church at the close of the first century. Did Paul write these pastoral letters? The Rev. Linda Yeager will lead us in a discussion of these interesting people and their correspondence.

February 16th:

"Introduction to Journal Writing"

Terence Belcher and Marian Phillip will help us discover why keeping a journal is a good discipline, and offer some suggestions on how to get started. This is called an "introduction" because there will be an opportunity to learn more at Lenten Academy.

February 23rd:

"Walking the Labyrinth"

Gretchen Flora and The Rev. Ben Newland will help us examine the history of the labyrinth and how it is used in spiritual life. A variety of labyrinth styles will be available and, during Holy Week this year, the walking labyrinth will be available to anyone who wishes to see or use it. Come and learn how to take this spiritual walk.
