Vol.79, No.4 • April 2010

FROM THE DEAN

It is the promised hope that enables us to enter a profoundly holy week carrying palms and singing “hosanna” with the shame and agony of the Cross ahead;

It is the hope that enables us to love one another by washing feet, and face the temptation to betray the Lord and disrespect the dignity of all made in God’s image;

It is the hope we cling to on that darkest of days, when humanity utterly rejects the One whose love compelled him to endure the cross for us;

It is the hope symbolized in the new fire, kindled in the stone-cold tomb, in the darkness of the promised Third Day, that forever opens the gate to eternal life for all those God embraces;

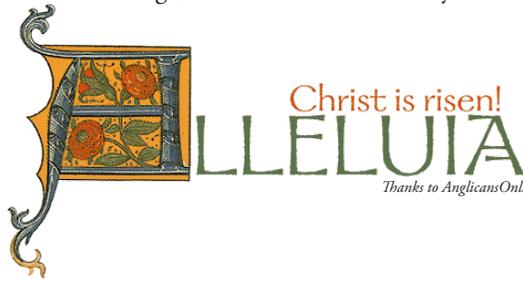

It is the true hope of us all, joyfully proclaimed with shouts of exaltation that stir the soul on the Day of Resurrection and throughout the Great Fifty Days of Easter: Alleluia, Christ is risen!

Beloved, through the death and resurrection of our Lord Jesus, we have been raised from the old life of sin and are a new creation! By virtue of our baptism into Christ’s death and resurrection, we have been made an Easter people, an alleluia from head to toe! The Risen Lord commissions each of us to boldly and courageously share his new life by proclaiming release to those in chains, welcoming with undefended hearts the excluded and rejected, satisfying those who hunger for justice and thirst for righteousness, and being the servant Church the Lord of Life redeemed us to be.

As we lift our voices in praise, let our lives, and the life of this Cathedral, overflow with acts of thanksgiving, “for Christ the Lord is risen, our joy that hath no end!”

The Lord is risen indeed! Alleluia!

*With affection,
Terry+*

Good news from Maison de Naissance

The Friends of MN here at the Cathedral would like to thank everyone for their support not only during the recent disaster, but all year long. The donations of time, money, knitted hats and blankets and prayers all are making a difference in the lives of families in Haiti.

Now for an update on the earthquake: Costs have risen even higher because of all the damage. Hospitals, clinics and other support systems in the capitol and other areas hard hit will all need rebuilding. The road to MN was damaged, but was still usable. The good news: no damage to MN ... not even a crack in the wall, and the electricity was still on too!

Thank you again for your support. It is truly appreciated.

James Earl Cavanaugh Memorial Fund report

The Very Reverend James Earl Cavanaugh lived out the greater part of his vocation as a priest at Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral. Earl was dedicated to the reality that ministry was life in action. Serving the community by caring for the poor, feeding the hungry, nursing the sick and providing access to education were not just priorities for Earl, they were sacraments.

Earl was instrumental in starting a hunger ministry at the cathedral that grew into the Kansas City Community Kitchen and the Culinary Cornerstones program now operating under the auspices of Episcopal Community Services.

Late in 2008 the James Earl Cavanaugh Memorial Fund was established in his memory to be utilized in the fight against hunger, ignorance and poverty. Donations to the Fund from 14 donors in the total amount of $28,000 were received and are being administered by the Community Foundation. As of December 31, 2009 the Fund assets were $29,891.

The Trustees of the Cavanaugh Fund on February 3, 2010 made a distribution of $1,500 as a grant to Episcopal Community Services to support the Community Kitchen and the Culinary Cornerstones program.

Donations to the Cavanaugh Memorial Fund are welcomed and will be utilized to carry on important hunger ministries. Gifts to the Fund can be in the form of cash, stock or other form of planned gifts and pledges. For more information on how to make a donation contact The Greater Kansas City Community Foundation at 816-842-8079 or www.gkccf.org and reference the Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral Cavanaugh Endowment Fund.

The trustees of the Fund are Ellen Goheen, Albert Mauro and Dean Terry White

Connors serves as Episcopal young adult delegate

As reported in last month's The Angelus, Cathedral parishioner Alexandra Connors was one of ten women who made up the Episcopal Church's young adult delegation to join Anglican Women's Empowerment and Ecumenical Women at the United Nations in participating in the Commission on the Status of Women (UNCSW). The group took turns posting entries to a blog, and Alexandra's contribution, Speaking UP, is found below. The group's entire blog of insightful stories is found at <http://geecsw.blogspot.com/> — GEE, UN CSW!! (Gender Equitable Episcopalians at the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women).

Speaking Up

When I woke up this morning, eager to start my new day here with a whole new family of women and men, I made it my goal to recognize connections between me and another person today. These strong connections with people who are seemingly so different from me were something that has been very apparent in my time here this far. Being a self identified planner, I decided to seek out those connections in my interactions of the day. However, little did I know that God would completely take over and lead me to a deeper connection than I would not have found on my own.

Gathering with all of the young adults of the Ecumenical Women delegation, we all worked together to plan the opening worship at the United Nations Church Center for the next day. After some powerful study and reflection of the scripture passage for the day, we broke into groups to more effectively plan our worship. I gravitated towards the prayer group and was eagerly anticipating digging into the logistics of our service. The small assembly of women gathered together of our own volition was almost awe-inspiring. I was pleasantly surprised at the profundity of the women in my group.

Perhaps the most humbling experience of my planning time today was experienced with a delegate from Argentina. Language was a barrier for this woman, but luckily one of our friends was proficient enough to be a translator for her. As someone who prides myself on my (what I have always touted as being a) strong Spanish background I was instantly overcome with a wave of fear and emotions. I knew exactly what I wanted to say to this woman. I knew what questions I wanted to ask her and I could even form them in my head in Spanish. I understood everything coming out of her mouth and the things that were being translated for her. It was easy to tell that she was a highly intelligent woman with a beautiful spirit.

However, when it came to actually conversing with her I became paralyzed. I couldn't convey the words from my brain to my mouth. All that came out was a mixture of probably incorrectly conjugated verbs and some benign nouns. My inability to speak with the woman probably came from a fear of sounding stupid, a fear of embarrassment. When I finally managed to force out a few broken sentences, she (unsurprisingly) was so kind about speaking slowly with me and assuring me that my nerves were nothing to worry about. This situation made me think about all of the women who are afraid to speak for reasons much more profound than mine. What about the women that cannot speak out for fear of persecution, or violence, or even perhaps because their societies prevent it? What have I to fear? I live in a society where my voice is encouraged, and yet I still am afraid to use it!

While this experience was overwhelming at the time, looking back on it, it reminds me to speak up! To use this opportunity that God has given me to be the voice for all the women that have not been afforded this opportunity to speak! I encourage you to find your voice, to overcome the obstacles that you set for yourself, and to express what is inside you.

With love, Alexandra

The Cathedral is well respected for the music sung and played on Sunday morning. Parishioners might like to know some of what happens in a typical week. The Symphony Chorus rehearses on Monday evening, the Heartland Men's Chorus on Tuesday evening.

The Tallis Singers and Grace Choraliers rehearse on Wednesday evening; the Cathedral Bell Ringers and Trinity Choir rehearse on Thursday evenings. Occasionally, the Kansas City Symphony has rehearsals in Founders' Hall. Also, we welcome Symphony guests pianists, who do their practice primarily in Haden Hall.

As the end of the academic year approaches, there are many Conservatory students who wish to play in one of our spaces.

In the month of April, Tiffany Moore, oboist, will play a recital April 10; Andrea Stanton, French hornist, will play a recital April 18 and Michael Scott, bassoonist, will play a recital April 28.

In addition, there will be organists practicing for Bachathon, which is May 2. Fine Arts Chorale will give a concert May 1. Additional May concerts will be listed in the May issue of The Angelus.

We are happy to be hospitable to those who want to make our Cathedral ring with beautiful music.

One of the delights of my history is that I am a member of New College (founded in 1379) of the University of Oxford. I am excited to tell you that the Choir of Men and Boys of New College will perform in concert at the Visitation Church Tuesday evening April 14. Under the directorship of Dr. Edward Higginbottom, the Choir has established a world-wide reputation for its beauty of singing and amazing variety of repertoire. Amongst the pieces to be sung here is the "Miserere" of Gregorio Allegri, which our own Trinity Choir sang so beautifully on Ash Wednesday. Really, you shouldn't miss hearing this stellar ensemble.

Treasurer's Report

Feb MTD	Budgeted MTD	Actual MTD
Income	$ 141,831	$ 156,845
Expenses	$ 167,215	$ 168,458
Net Total	$ (25,384)	$ (11,613)
Feb YTD	Budgeted YTD	Actual YTD
Income	$ 232,569	$ 248,487
Expenses	$ 286,491	$ 303,696
Net Total	$ (53,922)	$ (55,209)

The actual results for the first two months of 2010 continue to follow the budgeted amounts with a net negative cash flow of $55,209.

The budget for the entire year reflects a slight positive cash flow which will be made up in later months through endowment funds. Additionally, we are already seeing an increase in pledge income and would encourage those who have yet to send in their pledge cards to do so.

We greatly appreciate everyone's pledge support for this year and having everyone's pledge card also assists in our budgeting process. Additionally, we are getting very good support with events income through parking revenues; Christine Morrison is leading that effort!

Book Review

Out of the Silent Planet
written by C.S. Lewis

Even before the popular movies, many people were aware of the Chronicles of Narnia by C.S. Lewis. And of course there are his classics, probably best known of which is Mere Christianity. But how many of you are aware that Lewis also wrote a space trilogy?

The first of the three books, Out of the Silent Planet, was initially published in 1943. Much as with Narnia, Lewis shows his special talent of enabling us to visualize exotic new places and beings. His vivid descriptions permit us to conjure a powerful mental image of a very different world.

In a similar style to that of master story-teller H.G. Wells (whose books Lewis devoured in his youth), he weaves his story in such a way as to convince the reader that these events actually happened—or at the very least that they might have happened.

Also like Wells, and most of the better science fiction written since then, there is also a strong dose of social commentary integrated throughout the story. Naturally, in the hands of Lewis, that social commentary becomes expectantly theological.

The Silent Planet, and the two other books in the trilogy—Perelandra and The Hideous Strength are available in your Cathedral Bookstore. The Inklings Group at the Cathedral will begin a discussion of this work at the April Café Grazia.
