FROM THE DEAN Placards of Peace

“No more hurting people. Peace.” These words, hand lettered on a blue placard decorated with a peace symbol and two hearts, speak. This “peace sign” was crafted by 8-year-old Martin Richard. Martin was one of the three persons killed in the bomb blasts at the Boston Marathon finish line. He was there with his family to cheer on the runners in that annual event of endurance and national and international goodwill. His mother and sister, who stood watching with him, were seriously injured.

President Obama brought attention to Martin and his sign when he spoke at an interfaith memorial service at Boston’s Holy Cross Roman Catholic Cathedral. The picture of Martin holding his sign is circulating out there in cyberspace. It is a simple plea in a world of hurting. Yet more than the sign itself, Martin’s short life speaks. Of Martin, a friend of his named Colin gave this testimony: “If somebody was left out, he would come say, ‘Want to join my group?’”

As I write this, parts of Boston and its suburbs are in lock-down as the second of two brothers identified as the Marathon bombers is being pursued by law enforcement teams. The older of the two was killed earlier today in a shoot out with police. At this time we know that these brothers, aged 26 and 19, are ethnic Chechen natives of Russia, in the area bordering Chechnya, an area wracked by violence stemming from an ongoing struggle for independence. In time the story of these two young men and their motives will unfold. The troubling thing is that there are too many acts of senseless harm in the world. Too many people hurting people.

What a tragedy that, in Boston this week, an affable and compassionate eight year old, a bright young woman and a Chinese student would die at an event where the world’s people gather in celebration. That so many were injured and maimed. That two young men entering their most productive years would heartlessly kill and destroy. As news came out of Boston and saddened our hearts I could not but think of the world and all its troubles, and of our own Kansas City community where lives are lost in senseless killings year round.

Last week “Alleluia” was taped up in the Founders’ Hall windows facing the Cathedral’s main driveway. These are the hand-decorated placards of hope that were raised up by our children Easter morning when they helped begin our worship by uncovering the “Alleluia” that had been buried under the rug back before Lent began. These letters spell out the word that serves as a bookend for our Easter proclamation of faith, “Alleluia. Christ is risen. The Lord is risen indeed. Alleluia.” Or put another way, “Praise God. Christ has overcome death! Really! Praise God”

When the letters were first put up in the windows, they were taped on the glass so that they could be read from the inside. But, as one person wisely pointed out, we inside already know what it says! The letters were re-hung at once. Alleluia is visible to persons driving or walking down Broadway or across 13th Street. It is the word of hope we share with the neighborhood and the world. That word includes the message of eight-year-old Martin, now spread world-wide, “No more hurting people. Peace.” In, and through, and from our place in the heart of Kansas City this is what makes us who we are. God help us to live this at times like these.

Youth Sunday & Graduate Recognition: May 5

We will recognize Cathedral members who are receiving diplomas/degrees this year Sunday, May 5 (Youth Sunday) at all services.

If you know someone who is graduating from high school or college/graduate school, please contact the Cathedral office (jtoma@kccathedral.org) by Monday, April 29.

CPR/First Aid/AED

Saturday, May 4 • 9 a.m.-1 p.m. • Founders' Hall

Everyone is invited for a CPR and First Aid training/certification class. Sign up sheets are available in Founders' Hall Sundays at coffee hour or contact Carol Montgomery (caroljmontgomery@hotmail.com).

Why learn CPR? People trained in CPR can save the lives of people who have sudden cardiac arrest outside of hospitals. Almost 295,000 sudden cardiac arrests occur outside of hospitals in the United States and performing CPR until emergency help arrives may determine whether a victim survives or how well a victim recovers.

Food & toiletry collection: May 12

Thanks to your generosity, our Lenten collection of protein items for St. Mary's Pantry yielded:

- 74 jars of peanut butter
- 40 cans of chicken
- 87 cans of tuna
- 175 boxes of macaroni and cheese
- 53 cans of beans

Your help is deeply appreciated. The need is always there.

Nonperishable food collection

This month, celebrate Mother's Day with a donation of "Mom's comfort foods" to the pantry at St. Mary's. Please bring macaroni and cheese and "helper" boxed dinners; pasta; canned chicken, salmon, tuna or ham or chicken salad; peanut butter and jelly; instant pudding and gelatin; soup and other non-perishables (no glass containers, please) to the large basket in the Tower May 12. If you want to help, but don't want to shop, please bring in your unwanted grocery coupons from the Sunday newspaper.

Toiletry items collection

reStart Inc. is in need of donations of toiletry items. Especially needed are deodorant, travel-size shampoo and soap, toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs/brushes and tampons. Please bring items May 12 with your donations for St. Mary's food pantry. reStart offers the only youth emergency shelter in the urban core of Kansas City. Their youth network includes emergency shelter for 10 homeless and runaway youth ages 12-18 for up to 21 days and transitional housing for four youth ages 18-21 for up to 21 months. The street outreach program helps runaway and throw-away youth access services—they fielded 1,740 hotline calls and provided 2,263 youth with outreach services in 2011.

Learning the Way: Understanding that in the 21st century, Christians are formed, not born

Saturday, June 1, 9 a.m.–4 p.m., Founders' Hall

The Reverend Paul Hoffmann and Donna Linn of Seattle, Wash., are presenting a workshop on establishing a Catechumenate in a local congregation. This is a response to a growing desire to have an intentional and ongoing process for the formation of Christians.

Learning the Way is open to congregations in the Dioceses of West Missouri and Kansas, and the Central States Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

Paul Hoffman co-founded and directs Faith and Font, a national training event for seminary students and congregational leaders in preparing adults for Holy Baptism. Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church, Seattle, where Paul has served since 1996, has a flourishing catechumenal program.

Paul will preach at morning services, June 2, the Second Sunday after Pentecost.

The “Catechumenate” refers to an engaging process for gathering people to share and learn about what it means to follow Christ. It is rooted in the earliest practices of the Church, the word meaning to be taught orally.

Registration, which includes lunch and materials, is $20 per person. Register online at kccathedral.org/learningtheway.

About Pastor Paul E. Hoffman

Paul has been an ELCA Pastor since 1982, and Lead Pastor at Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church in Seattle for the past 17 years. There he has led The WAY, a twenty-first century adaptation of the ancient practice of bringing new Christians to faith through a year-long mentoring process in discipleship.

Paul will retire from parish ministry in May 2013 in order to devote his full-time energies to a new ministry of writing and teaching about this outreach for the larger Church. His work at the Cathedral in June will be the first of his seminars in this new adventure.

Known across the Lutheran Church for his teaching, workshops, and mentoring, Paul brings a wealth of experience from leading The WAY at his congregation in Seattle for the past 17 years. His story is captured in the recent Faith Forming Faith (Cascade Books, 2012) and in the forthcoming Faith Shaping Ministry.

Paul has worked ecumenically and led workshops and training events in the US and Europe, having spoken and taught at Oxford, Paris, St. Petersburg and in local North American congregations just like ours.

He is married to Donna Seuren Hoffman, a reading specialist in Shoreline Schools. She shares his joy of music, reading, gardening, and travel. The couple lives in Seattle just across Lake Union from their two adult children, Jacob and Lauren.

About Donna Linn, COG (Child of God)

Donna is an art therapist, counselor, seminar leader and public speaker.

“Jesus made a dramatic entrance into my life. Subsequently, I have been developing my faith through the amazing way we worship at Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church in Seattle. I can’t wait to share that story with you.”

“I am a wild card Christian hopelessly in love with God; and I found the most awesome spiritual home to practice and deepen my faith in my neighborhood church, of all places...”

“Just like the skeptical and outcast woman at the well, I came to church thirsty and hungry. Little did I suspect the kind of living water and spiritual food they had in store for me. I went from parched to hydrated, from starving to full, from isolation to community, and my gratitude never stops ‘gushing forth.’”

Families with young children (age 4 through grade 5) are invited to join our Associate Priest Christy Dorn for an informal lunch and kid-friendly program Sunday, May 19 at 11:45 a.m. in Haden Hall.

Our program this month is Celebrating God’s Creation through Art. In this workshop, families will work together to decorate a kite in a way that represents their family, and then assemble it so that it’s ready to fly. For planning purposes, please let us know by May 16 if you will be coming (cdorn@kccathedral.org).

Giving Thanks for the Reverend Dr. Richard Ira Preis Memorial Concert & Reception: Monday, May 13, 2 p.m.

We give thanks for the life and ministry of Pastor Richard Preis who died April 9 from complications due to ALS, Lou Gehrig's disease. In recent years Pastor Preis, a retired pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America assisted at Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral with pastoral care, home visitations and in celebrating weekday Eucharist. His ministry among us was a visible sign of Called to Common Mission, the agreement that established full communion between the Episcopal Church and the ELCA Lutheran Church. Through his ministry among us he touched numerous lives and hearts at the Cathedral and in the greater community.

Born in Chicago, Illinois, May 10, 1930, Pastor Preis earned degrees from Carthage College, the University of Kansas, and Hamma School of Divinity. He was senior pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor, Michigan, for 27 years and Normandale Lutheran Church in Edina, MN for 8 years. He then came to Kansas City to be interim pastor at Atonement Lutheran, Overland Park, and subsequently at All Saints' Lutheran, KCK, Faith Lutheran, Prairie Village, and Prince of Peace Lutheran, KCK.

While in Kansas City, Pastor Preis began a career as a singer and actor. He appeared in 15 shows for such companies as American Heartland Theater and Unicorn Theater, and sang at Californos restaurant (available on YouTube!). He created one-man shows including "The Gospel According to Broadway" which he presented 150 times in 18 states and Canada. Just this past year Richard delighted us with this lively gospel revue here at the Cathedral. He was one of the first actors in the standardized patient program at KCUMB. He served on local boards of Summerfest, KC Chamber Orchestra, Friends of the Heart of America Shakespeare Festival and the Lyric Opera Guild. He served on education and religious boards on local, state and national levels and was a regent of Carthage and Luther Colleges.

Pastor Preis is preceded in death by his wife, Constance Fry; parents Vera and Arthur Preis and brother, Arthur; foster parents, Sarah and Richard Albert and brother, Phillip; his foster grandson, Kyle Balke. He is survived by his companion Alvin Schneider; sons Andrew, Charles and David and son-in-law, Keith Vargo; his foster family Nancy and Bryan Balke and children; his foster brother Richard Albert and sister-in-law, Caroline; and various nieces and nephews. He donated his remains to KCUMB.

Contributions in memory may be given to Atonement Lutheran Church, Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral, and ALS Foundation in Kansas City.

Paul Hoffman to preach

We welcome the Reverend Paul Hoffman, pastor in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America to the Cathedral pulpit Sunday, June 2. A native of Pennsylvania, Paul has served congregations in Nebraska and more recently Seattle, where he developed a vibrant program for forming Christians (catechumenate) in the Northwest "none zone." (In the Northwest region of the United States, a majority of persons reply "none" when asked for their religious preference/affiliation). Paul, and colleague Donna Linn are presenting a program at the Cathedral on establishing the catechumenate in a congregation.

Summer coffee hour

Our Holy Hands teams who provide hospitality (bring food, setup, clean up) for coffee hour will be on summer break and we are looking for Summer Hospitality Hosts to bring food to share — something simple to go with a cup of coffee, like donuts/donut holes, fruit, brownies or cookies (homemade or from the store) or veggies.

Song of Mary Magdalene

I walk in the garden
In search of my Lord.
I can barely see the sunrise
Through the curtain of my tears.

The glaring sight
Of an empty tomb
The angels in their white.
And all is quiet save the sacred cloths
That once adorned His flesh.

And thus the angels asked of me
"Why art thou still in tears?"
But when I heard Him call my name
My tears were wiped away.

He is Risen
