FROM THE DEAN

For Children's Sake

Most parents and teenagers can remember the red tape ritual of applying for and receiving a driver's license. My own rite of passage as a motor vehicle operator involved hour-long trips to a rural county office. We took the long drive to avoid the more urban New York State Department of Motor Vehicles of my native county north of "The City." I was a bit nervous on those journeys with one of my parents over twisting two-lane roads. I wanted that license.

I remember studying the state driver's manual and taking a multiple choice test of twenty questions to receive my learner's permit. Two types of driver's education followed. Driver's Ed at high school. That included lectures and movies that taught safe driving techniques and the consequences of drinking, hot-rodding, and speeding.

My favorite film was "The Last Prom." You guessed it. The cool kids with the coolest prom outfits leave the prom in a cool car for a party where strong, cool drinks are served. If my memory serves me right, the movie began and ended with the school choir vocalizing some sacred sounding lament. Their star classmates are no more. There has been an accident involving speed, alcohol, a convertible, daring and an immovable ancient tree on the side of the road.

What sticks in my mind with all that education are the stern and solemn warnings of police officers, Driver's Ed teachers, driver's manuals and my father. Their scripts were delivered in harmony. "Don't speed. Don't show off. Don't drink and drive." Motor vehicles get us from point A to point B and serve as symbols of power and prestige. They can also be lethal instruments. The sound of those alarms contributed to the shaking in my innards the day we drove those twisting miles on the way to my driver's test.

None of us could ever imagine abandoning laws, training programs, or even driver's licenses for our kids. Insanity. Irresponsibility. Perish the thought. I have to admit as I write this my innards are upset. I am alarmed by the Missouri Legislature's decision to override the Governor's veto of blocking the repeal of laws requiring gun safety training classes in order to get a permit for concealed carrying of a firearm. Anyone can carry a concealed firearm in public without a permit.

Where is the logic here? We would never countenance anyone driving without a license, even if they were old enough to operate a motor vehicle. That wouldn't happen even if car manufacturers wanted loosened regulations in order to sell more cool cars. What in God's good creation is going on with guns? And, what can we do about it?

While I personally will see what I can do, I want to underscore the duty you and I have to uphold the dignity of every human being. Part of this is acknowledging our corporate responsibility for the good of all people.

Later this month on October 23 we observe Children's Sabbath and begin our annual stewardship ingathering of money for funding mission. On that day of special emphasis, we pledge "to renew and live out our moral responsibility to care, protect and advocate for all children." We also pledge our resources for something greater than ourselves—to support work in Christ's name among the vulnerable.

In the coming days you and I must ask ourselves about how we strive for the wellbeing of God's people and God's world. We must accompany our children in ways that lead to responsible and loving care. Handing over keys always involves training and good rules.

For the sake of our children,

—Peter

Treasurer's Report

Grace & Holy Trinity's Financial Status As of August 2016

July	2016 MTD	2015 MTD
Income	$ 138,892	$ 143,786
Expenses	$ 161,696	$ 151,856
Net Total	$ (22,804)	$ (8,070)

	2016 YTD	2015 YTD
Income	$ 1,184,747	$ 1,182,917
Expenses	$ 1,130,627	$ 1,132,870
Net Total	$ 54,120	$ 50,047

Income in August was below last year due to lower pledge receipts. Expenses for August were higher than in 2015 in the property part of the budget, primarily due to the timing of insurance premium payments and the cost of maintenance of the HVAC systems. The result was a modestly higher deficit in August of this year.

On a YTD basis the picture looks better as both income and expenses are running very much in line with last year. Through August, both last year and this year showed a surplus. This puts the Cathedral on a sound financial basis as it enters the busy fall season of activities.

Maintaining this sound financial position requires the continued support of the congregation. Parishioners are asked to prayerfully remember to make timely payments on their pledges in support of the Cathedral's ministry.

—Chuck Ritter, Treasurer

Service of Healing and Wholeness

Sunday, October 16, 8 and 10:15 a.m.

We welcome the Reverend Marshall Scott, Director of Spiritual Services, St. Luke's Hospital as preacher. It is a tradition at the Cathedral to offer laying on of hands and anointing for healing on the Sunday closest to the Feast of Saint Luke, October 18.

Compassionate Friends: A Lay Visitation Ministry

Compassionate Friends:

A Lay Visitation Ministry

A Visitation Ministry is one of love and compassion extended to members of the congregation, whether it is carried out by clergy or lay members of the congregation. In our commitment to care for all in our congregation, Grace & Holy Trinity Cathedral is beginning a new ministry called Compassionate Friends. Compassionate Friends is a lay visitation ministry offering the opportunity to be symbols of God's love to those who are homebound and may be facing circumstances leaving them feeling alone, isolated, or in need of friendship. Lay Visitors will use a listening ear, support, encouragement, prayer and occasional acts of service as tools for ministry.

GHTC will recruit and train members who feel called to this ministry. Training will include those skills most necessary for skilled and caring visitation. Then, matches will be made with lay visitors and church members who need care.

Visitors will meet with their homebound friend regularly (sometimes weekly, sometimes monthly along with regular phone calls, depending on the need).

A Lay Visitor should have the following qualities:

- be a "people person"
- have good listening skills
- have gifts of patience, faithfulness, keeping confidences
- background in elder care helpful
- can accept others as they are

The training for this ministry will be held October 1 & 8, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. If you are interested in becoming a part of this Lay Visitation Ministry team or if you would like to explore it further, please contact Canon Christy Dorn at 816-474-8260 or by email cdorn@kccathedral.org. If you, a loved one, or someone you know, would like a visit from a Lay Visitor, please contact Canon Dorn. Your referral will be held in confidence.

New Children's Choir Director

Linda Martin has extensive experience in teaching classroom music and private voice lessons, directing choirs of all ages and presenting music and worship workshops for Choristers Guild, Association of Lutheran Church Musicians, and Evangelical Lutheran Church's Bethany House of Studies. She has been a featured soprano soloist, has performed as a piano accompanist, and coached performing music majors. Mrs. Martin created and established Kansas City Ballet's Community Education and Outreach Programs. She is passionate about sharing her joy in music with others and especially encouraging and nourishing the faith life of young people through music and their participation in worship.

A Tribute

The Trinity Choir has long enjoyed the musical and spiritual offerings of many, many musicians. One who has dedicated a considerably long ministry is Randal J. Loy. Randal joined the Choir in 1984, coming to the Cathedral from St. Andrew's Church. He has been a section leader for both the Tenor I and Tenor II sections.

Because of health reasons, Randal is taking a sabbatical from the Choir. We wish to thank him for his dedication to the Choir and to the Cathedral. We look forward to the day when he can return to the Choir.

—Canon John Schaefer

Bring your leashed, crated or otherwise secured domestic critters and be part of the holy fun! The tradition of animal or pet blessings is in remembrance of St. Francis of Assisi's love for all God's creatures. Francis, whose feast day is October 4, wrote a Canticle of the Creatures, an ode to God's living things: "All praise to you, O Lord, for all these brother and sister creatures."

Gracie, the Cathedral cat, getting comfortable.

Children's Sabbath

Sunday, October 23

The 2016 National Observance of Children's Sabbaths® Celebration, "Children of Promise: Closing Opportunity Gaps," takes place October 23. The Cathedral will join with places of worship all across the nation as people of faith affirm that every child enters the world full of promise and potential. However, gaps in family income, early childhood development, and education widen over time, making it far harder for some children to thrive and fulfill their promise. During formation time and worship that day, we will raise a voice of concern about these opportunity gaps and learn how we can close them so all children have an equal opportunity to become all God intends them to be. We will also have a Noisy Offering collection of your spare change to be donated to outreach efforts that involve children.

Beau Heyen of Episcopal Community Services will open the in-gathering of our tithes and offerings for the mission of the Cathedral in 2017. Beau, who marks one year with ECS as President and CEO, has served in ministry in the United Methodist Church. His remarks will complement our observance of Children's Sabbath that day. The theme for our stewardship campaign Growing in Faith Together is the title given to this year's ministry fair held in September.

The names will also be listed in the bulletin. During the liturgy, there is a time when lectors read aloud the names of those who have died in the past 12 months, followed by a time when all present say aloud names of those they would like remembered.

Forms for submitting the names of those who have died within the past year will be available at services beginning October 9. You can place these in the offering plate or in the basket on the ushers' table. Names can also be emailed to communications@kccathedral.org.
