

Announcements for the Week of July 29, 2018

From me to you ...

This week so much has swirled around in my life: dinner with friends, appointments for Eucharist, conversations about budgets, plans for campus lockdown, lunches for work talk instead of Royals/Chiefs/whatever talk ... it's been this way for a while. A while too long, too busy, too frantic. Except for one day—there was a conversation about dreams, about hopes, about the holiness of life and laughter, of food and fellowship, of the things that shape us, mold us, and give us meaning as a family of faith.

Then this morning I read a blog post that reminded me of you, me, of us—about a man and his dog, and Jesus. About footprints that leave behind a tale of friendship and the mark that companionship adds to our journeys. And I think I'll have to preach about it all on Sunday.

It's a mystery, this journey of faith. We don't know where we are going, we don't know what it will look like at the end, it's an uncomfortable place to be in ... we just know we must keep going. And so we do, you and I—together into the future, taking the risk that God's ultimately in charge, trusting that all will be well. To do otherwise, to stop living as we are called to live, would be unthinkable, wouldn't it?

Let's talk about it. See you in church!

Summer Food for Kids Needed

School is out for the summer and school-age kids are home all day. This means no free or reduced lunches from school. So please consider picking up extra shelf-stable food at the grocery store that is easily opened by children at home (i.e., canned goods with pop top lids, tuna in foil packs, etc.) for the pantry at St. Mary's.
