FROM THE DEAN

Vision for a City Rebuilt

When our son announced to us that he was applying to graduate schools to study urban planning, it was both a surprise and not a surprise. All along he had set his sights on law school, but we found this new option to be in character.

Ever since he was a boy he had spent untold hours playing SimCity on the computer. With this game he had built and managed cyber cities seeing them through simulated periods of prosperity, decay and calamity which was all part of the game. It kept him occupied for hours and instilled in him a passion for imagining the best for cities. He studied at Georgia Tech and is now working for a private firm helping municipalities and chambers of commerce develop plans for growth and development. Lately he has been working on a revitalization plan in Topeka.

The Sunday Review in the New York Times, December 18, 2016, carried a short article titled “Once and Future Aleppo, an Inspiring Story” by Alex Kaman, about the artwork of a 14 year-old Syrian boy, Mohammed Qutaish. When ancient buildings and the architectural treasures in his native Aleppo were being pulverized in deadly air strikes at the outset of the Syrian civil war, Mohammed began making models of his favorite buildings that had been destroyed. As the conflict wore on and more of the city lay in ruins, Mohammed began creating a model for a rebuilt Aleppo. In his own words he wrote, “I began building my model after I experienced my city being destroyed by airstrikes and missiles. My sorrow, caused by this destruction, has inspired me immensely. Sometimes I feel very frightened. Sometimes I cannot think or work. Optimism gives me the power and determination to finish the works I have started. Every complex I design has a garden. I hope that one day these paper buildings will become real buildings.”

Currently a colorful four foot square model of aspiring architect Mohammed’s future Aleppo, resembling a fictive SimCity, carefully transported out of Syria is on display at New York’s Mmuseumm. His family have fled Syria and are refugees in Turkey and are awaiting resettlement.

Mohammed’s vision for a city rebuilt seems to me at the start of a new year an apt metaphor for the mission of the church. You and I are called to raise up and build the kingdom of God so that we and others might become the people we are created to be. This means offering assistance and relief where it is warranted, and confronting those forces and systems that harm people and the planet. It means using our resources and talents to imagine lives restored and all God’s people living in safety in decent homes, with the best health care and schools, adequate and pure food, and plenty of green spaces.

I invite you to consider taking part in this work by giving generously of your resources and time for the outreach ministries of the Cathedral. With God’s help, let’s create our own models. Part of our calling is to listen to what our children are telling us about the future right here in Kansas City. Let the lively, creative imagination of a young man living far away in a frightening world we can hardly imagine inspire us. Who knows, you and I may be called to imagine and raise up a building block for God’s kingdom today.

Blessings in this new year of grace,
Peter DeVeau, Dean

*“In the last days it will be, God declares, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh,
and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
and your young men shall see visions,
and your old men shall dream dreams.” Acts 2:17*

Treasurer's Report

Grace & Holy Trinity's Financial Status As of November 2016

November	2016 MTD	2015 MTD
Income	$ 144,899	$ 152,841
Expenses	$ 119,634	$ 138,906
Net Total	$ 25,265	$ 13,935

	2016 YTD	2015 YTD
Income	$ 1,562,795	$ 1,524,732
Expenses	$ 1,536,459	$ 1,513,018
Net Total	$ 26,336	$ 11,714

Income in November of this year was down somewhat versus 2015 in the area of special gifts. Expenses for the month were lower than the 2015 numbers due to the timing of insurance payments, lower repairs in the property area and the timing of pension contributions for the clergy.

On a YTD basis, income through November ran ahead of last year due to the timing of receipts from a recurring bequest. Expenses through November are also higher than last year, primarily because of higher property repairs and utilities.

While the Cathedral is showing a modest surplus through November, it is important to remember that December is a time of high seasonal expenses. All members of the congregation are asked to remember to complete their 2016 pledges.

The Cathedral is too heavily reliant on income from externally administered bequests and the endowment. These income sources can be volatile from year to year in response to the ups and downs of the stock market. In contrast, pledge income tends to be more stable from year to year, which makes it a vital pillar of financial support for the Cathedral's ministry. If you have not already made a pledge for 2017, please prayerfully consider making one now.

—Chuck Ritter, Treasurer

Thank You

As December 31 comes to a close, I will have officially retired as Organist-Director of Music of the Cathedral. I wish to thank everyone, past and present, for making my years here fruitful. In forty years, we have known many, many people and we hope that their thoughts toward us have been and are happy ones.

I want to pay special thanks to several 'behind the scenes' individuals who have made a tremendous difference to the musical life of our community of faith. Michael Quimby and his colleagues have taken care of the organ since it was installed in 1981; more recently, he has effected some tonal changes which have made the organ absolutely one of the finest in the community and, quite possibly, in the nation. Joseph Brandwein has lovingly cared for the Cathedral pianos, not only tuning but replacing mechanisms that had grown old. Marian Thomas is the curator of the harpsichord; she replaces broken strings and makes action adjustments as needed, and does so with the greatest of care.

I am grateful to Dean Cavanaugh for choosing me to be the musical leader of the parish and to subsequent Deans who have given us all the opportunity to make glorious music for our glorious God here at home and in far away places.

There's so much more I'd like to say, but we haven't the space. So, once again, thank you and may you continue to sing God's praises even more heartily under the leadership of Paul Meier.

If you would like to contact me after the first of the year, you may reach me at canonjohn40@gmail.com.

Well Done

Forty-year tenures are rarities today. But, when considering the man we are honoring the longevity of John Schaefer as principal musician at Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral comes as no surprise to us. We have benefited from John's loyalty, dedication, commitment and passion for all God's people and for good music. Recently one person remarked to me that "Deans come and go, but John Schaefer continues on."

This Cathedral church and greater Kansas City have been blessed and enlivened by his selfless service in helping to shape a lively musical and cultural landscape. The stones in this sacred place resound with the dulcet tonal witness of countless recitals and choral works, the Gabriel Kney organ, the mass choruses of Handel's Messiah, the melodic works of Poulenc, Bach marathons, Nativity puppets and Wise Women, the ever-renewing cycle of feast days and fasts, music to accompany life's passages and national observances—all beautifully presented and coordinated by this maestro of musical arts.

As we are wont to say of the Cathedral that it is "a House of Prayer for All People," so through forty years of service John Schaefer has actively made the Cathedral a "House of Music for All Kansas City."

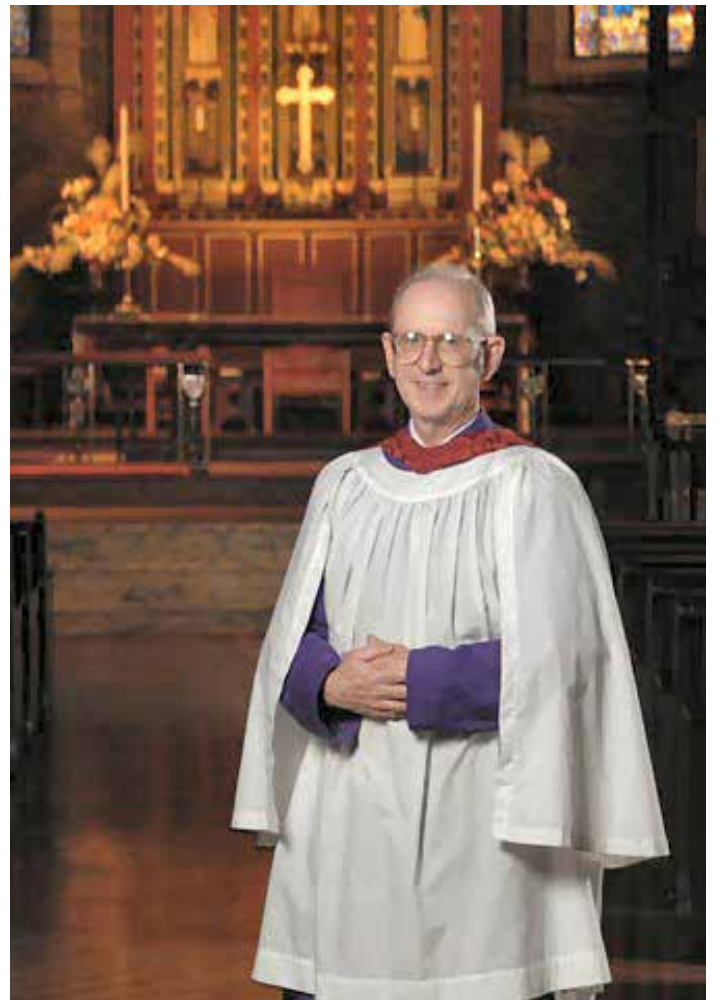

It should be said that one of the "other tasks as assigned" included in a church musician's job description is clearly to serve as adjunct pastor. This John has done well. It is not uncommon to meet John in the hospital or at a care facility checking in on a beloved parishioner or friend, or to find him engaged with a person who has come to the church door seeking help. I have set great value on knowing that

John is constantly concerned about the welfare of the sheep in this part of God's pasture. He cares deeply for each of the members of his choirs, and annually earns the respect and affection of the teenagers in the Tallis Singers. On any given day John can be observed lavishing food and affection on Gracie, our Cathedral cat, who to me seems oddly to meow on pitch.

For John worship is always the main event. He has been ever-faithful in calling this community to observe silence in preparation to offering prayer and praise. His musical selections speak to the occasion. Personally I have delighted in making reference to a hymn text in prayers and sermons and then waiting to see if John will slip the melody line into the morning's walking music or weave it in during communion. Without fail, John demonstrates that he has been listening to what is being said.

Yes, forty years of service is a notable accomplishment in our time, and certainly in our context a tenure of biblical precedent. John's ministry will bear fruit long after he plays his last service and takes off his organ shoes. This Cathedral church and the Kansas City music scene have been blessed beneficiaries of the talent and foresight of this man who has brought us, as the hymn writer suggests, to "new dimensions in the world of sound."

While this will not be the same place without John and his caring spouse, Fiona, we have been prepared for even greater things because of them. I wish them well and God's blessing as they are now free to attend just about every concert worth attending—even on Thursday evenings and Sundays at five.

I invite you to express your gratitude to Fiona and John for their many gifts given to us! Well done good and faithful servants!

—Peter DeVeau, Dean

Thank you!

Peter DeVeau, Dean of the Cathedral, is on medical leave of absence following a stroke. He continues to improve with out-patient therapy and is learning the true meaning of patience as he grows stronger day by day. He is grateful that the stroke has not affected his speech or cognitive ability. He is using this unplanned sabbatical for reading and reflection and is looking forward to returning to the Cathedral soon. The Dean wants to thank you for all your prayers and good wishes. Please know that he holds you in his daily prayers and is thankful for the ministry of Canon Christy Dorn, Senior Warden Mark Galus, and the Cathedral staff during his absence. May you know the peace and presence of Christ at Christmas and in the days to come.

New Staff Member

The Dean is pleased to announce that Reverend Vicki Davis has been hired part-time to assist at the Cathedral while he is recovering. Vicki, who formerly practiced law and has served on the staff of large churches, begins her ministry the first week in January.

Vicki holds a B.A. from the University of Missouri-Kansas City (1975), a J.D. from Columbia University School of Law, New York City (1981), and an M. Div. from Yale Divinity School, New Haven, CT (1999).

After more than a decade of practicing corporate law, and wrestling with a call to ministry, Vicki embarked on the path of seminary and discernment, and was ordained to the transitional diaconate in the Diocese of Connecticut in June of 2001. Upon finishing her M.Div., she served as Director of Pastoral Care at Silver Hill Hospital (a private psychiatric, substance-abuse facility in New Canaan, Connecticut), then as Curate at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in New Canaan (2001-2007), where she was ordained to the priesthood in May of 2002. She worked as Chaplain at Grace Episcopal Church School in Manhattan (2008-2011), then as Associate Rector at Trinity on the Green in New Haven, Connecticut.

She returned to Kansas City in 2015 and has just finished a year-long Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) Residency at St. Luke's Hospital.

Please join us in welcoming Vicki to our staff!

Help Needed!

The Cathedral office is in need of volunteer weekday receptionists. Our volunteer receptionists serve as gateways for all weekday activity and help create a positive and inviting impression of the church and its ministry. Some perks provided to office volunteers: get better acquainted with the Cathedral staff and clergy, visit with Cathedral members, provide your time and talents through service and get invited to a great appreciation lunch at the end of the year.

If you have daytime hours available and want to serve in the office, please contact Julie Toma in the Cathedral office (816.474.8260 or jtoma@kccathedral.org). Providing this necessary and vital service will make you a part of a significant operational aspect of Cathedral life.

2017 Pledges

Birthday Gift Cards for Foster Children

Help a child in the foster care system by donating $25 for a birthday gift card. These gift cards are given to children who do not receive any other gifts to celebrate their birthdays. In the past we have donated 40 gift cards each year, but with the growing number of children in the system 40 gift cards is not enough anymore. Please consider this very special ministry of making children feel special on their birthdays. Contact Terri Curran to donate at tcurra2@yahoo.com.

Diaper Drive

Because of your support, HappyBottoms, the KC metro area's diaper bank, is able to provide an average of 2,478 children each month with clean diapers. Since diapers are not covered by safety-net programs like WIC, SNAP or Medicaid, your donations of diaper packages (including already opened packs) help cover the gap and enable families to have at least a few clean diapers on hand every day. Please bring your diapers to the blue bin in the Cathedral entryway, and we will deliver them to HappyBottoms. In 2016 the Cathedral collected nearly 10,000 diapers, so thank you in advance for your generosity!
